Art Unit: 1644

The amendment of 5/3/06 has been entered. Claims 1-22 are pending and subject to restriction as follows.

RESTRICTION GROUPS

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-12, drawn to a method of antibody purification involving the steps of 1) protein A affinity chromatography, followed by 2) ion-exchange chromatography that binds contaminating protein A and that resolves antibody aggregates and antibody monomers in the flow through fraction, followed by 3) fractionating and harvesting monomeric antibody from the flow through fraction.

Group II claim(s) 13-22, drawn to a method of protein purification involving the steps of 1) ion-exchange chromatography that resolves aggregates and monomers in the flow through fraction, followed by 2) fractionating and harvesting monomeric protein from the flow through fraction.

REASONS INVENTIONS LACK UNITY

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The methods of Groups I and II can be practiced independently of each other because the ion-exchange chromatography step in the method of Group I requires that contaminating protein A be bound to the chromatography matrix, while the ion-exchange chromatography step in the method of Group II does not require that any contaminating protein be bound to the chromatography matrix. Therefore different conditions of ion exchange chromatography could be used in the methods of Groups I and II. These two methods therefore do not have a common technical feature.

Art Unit: 1644

ADVISORIES TO APPLICANT

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
